Lexus GS-Series 300 3.0 Limited Edition 4dr Auto | Jul 2006

READ UPDATED DESCRIPTION

why buy a Lexus. its essentially a toyota and extremely reliable car. the mileage and model might put you on a back foot however these cars are designed to drive for around 800,000 miles before something really goes wrong. Lexus worldwide regularly gives out warranties for 10 years or 1 million km on their cars and no other manufacturer has been heard of doing such shenanigans.

I have a low milage fully kitted Hyundai 2017 and this old Lexus is still better to drive then the Hyundai. the Hyundai is always a bumpy ride in comparison to the Lexus. Japanese engineers have put their hearts minds and souls in to designing such cars . it currently doesn't have any issues driving and I am not selling due to some flaw in the car.

the oil dip stick is still transparent and the radiator water is on the same level as last year. meaning the engine is in very good condition. I asked Lexus to change the gear oil out of caution . they said the gear oil doesn't need changing for the whole life of the vehicle unless something foreign has entered the oil .as nothing has happened to the gear so the gear is good for the life of the car. it has had periodic maintenance done and receipts are in the service book.

it has 2 keys and original papers which is enough reason to buy the car .

the asking price reflects the condition of the car is according to me should have been above £4,500 however as others are selling ill maintained cars for half this price I have had to reduce it to £3000.

I have tried to book an mot so as to hand over a years worth of not however the mot system doesn't allow me to book early mot. the mot guys have been motting this car in the same condition it is as today. so that shouldn't be an issue .

clean inside. new contitack 7 tires front. all 4 tires very good condition. new battery and plugs. huge woofer and sound is very good. engine and gear and suspensions all good. electronics all working. part history. the engine oil is still transparent ,so it shows the engine is in very good condition. new a/c compressor and shocks all good. hpi check report when I bought the car. will show car vin number on body panel parts to confirm the car is still clean . very good example of clean and maintained car. has hud fitted . selling due to back ache and getting in and out of saloon isn't for me anymore. its a fantastic car to drive . the car has nothing that needs repairs or replacement its not import as shown here. the paperwork from Lexus proves it.
