2016 M135i LCI Manual with LSD 73,xxx K miles (will rise) Full service History (BMW & Specialist) This is a lovely unabused, unmapped example with subtle cosmetic mods and LSD and easier to insure than a m140i. I have owned this car for 2 years now and covered 20,000 troublefree miles in that time. I am a mature owner and it spends most of its time on a 20ml motorway commute on cruise at 60mph. As such it is in excellent cosmetic and mechanical condition. I purchased it from a similarly OCD mature owner and then had the following installed by a specialist which transformed the car: MPerformance LSD (original open diff will also come with the car) Powerflex yellow rear subframe inserts Original plastic charge pipe was also changed out for a forged charge pipe at that time however the car is not, and never has been, mapped. The car has a full service history and had a major service with specialist last summer including oil, brake fluid & spark plugs. It has just been serviced again by same specialist in April of this year. In addition the car has the following spec: LED auto headlights Cruise control & speed limiter Auto wipers Keyless start/stop Tyre pressure monitoring system Red leather interior with heated front seats Standard media with sat nav, DAB, Bluetooth streaming etc Rear parking sensors & visual aid Upgraded M-Performance exhaust Genuine M-Performance side skirt extensions & decals Carbon fibre rear spoiler M-Performance dry
