Full service history until my ownership, I have trust issues and also a bit of OCD when it comes to cars so had all the below done as preventative maintenance and to keep on top of maintenance.

Oil and filter change

Gearbox oil

Final drive oil

New discs and pads all round (oem shw discs

4 new Michelin pilot sport 4s

VBT braided lines

All 4 wheel bearings replaced

Air conditioning recharge

Leak down test - no leaks

Full comprehensive detail and ceramic coating by one of the best detailers in Northern Ireland

Darkside Non res downpipe - original included (no drone but nice rumble when exhaust in sports mode)

Total Cost of all above including parts : £7883.99 (all invoices here)

DRC - I feel this is an essential part of a rs4 which is why I spent a lot of money maintaining it. In Northern Ireland the only people who can maintain DRC are Belfast Audi, so after hitting a pot hole it needed a new hose at the front. A week after this the rear shock started leaking which was replaced and recharged.

Total cost of DRC Repairs : £2038.25

Since I put the ad up it has also had New engine mounts x 2, 8 new spark plugs and full service, two new control arms and 4 wheel alignment - cost £1371.26

Total Cost : £11395.22 (All invoices present)

Also includes a genuine 20" rs4 rotor with a virtually brand new Michelin p4s on it, as I hit a pothole which split the DRC pipe and burst the tyre a week after I got the new tyres on which is why this tyre is literally brand new and I learned the hard way these cars don't come with a spare so didn't want that hassle again of having to be recovered.

I searched for a year to find an example like this which had in my opinion the most desirable extras. The only things missing are the ceramic brakes and the bucket seats, ceramic brakes are an insanely expensive item to replace and the bucket seats destroy all the rear leg room.

When I was on the lookout for a B8 they all had either incomplete service histories or else missing some of the nice extras.

In my opinion one of the best cared for examples for sale in the UK today with a comprehensive file of invoices and documentation. Over £11k spent in 12 months keeping it in perfect condition.

Reason for sale is I need a bigger car but if it doesn't sell I'll hang on to it.

Not interested in part ex.

All test drives will be carried out by me.

Car is located in Cookstown, Northern Ireland, 30 minutes from Belfast airport and 2 hours from Dublin airport. Multiple daily ferry's also available from Belfast to Liverpool / Holyhead.
