The Toyota Corolla GR Sport is a dynamic trim level that blends the reliability of the Corolla with sporty design cues inspired by Toyota's Gazoo Racing division. Aimed at driving enthusiasts, the GR Sport stands out with its aggressive styling, including a unique front grille, blacked-out details, and 17- or 18-inch alloy wheels. The interior is equally sporty, featuring sports seats with contrast stitching, a leather-trimmed steering wheel, and aluminum pedals. Performance-wise, the Corolla GR Sport typically offers a 1.8-liter or 2.0-liter hybrid engine, delivering a balance of power and fuel efficiency. The sport-tuned suspension enhances handling, making it more engaging to drive compared to standard models. Despite its sporty appeal, the GR Sport doesn't compromise on practicality or safety, featuring Toyota's Safety Sense suite, including adaptive cruise control and lane-keeping assist. Overall, the Corolla GR Sport adds a dose of excitement to a dependable compact car
