The Vauxhall Grandland X 1.2 Turbo Elite Nav 2020 model is a compact SUV that blends practicality, style, and performance, offering a well-rounded package for drivers looking for a reliable and versatile family vehicle. Here is a detailed specification overview of the model:

Engine and Performance: The Grandland X 1.2 Turbo is powered by a 1.2-liter, 3-cylinder, turbocharged petrol engine. Despite its relatively small displacement, this engine generates a respectable 128 bhp (130 PS) at 5,500 rpm and 230 Nm of torque at 1,750 rpm. This makes it surprisingly capable in both urban and highway environments. This engine is paired with a 6-speed manual transmission, although an 8-speed automatic transmission is also available as an option. The engine's turbocharging helps deliver strong performance while maintaining good fuel efficiency. The Grandland X can accelerate from 0-60 mph in approximately 10.4 seconds and has a top speed of around 117 mph.

Fuel Economy and Emissions: Fuel economy is one of the key strengths of the 1.2-liter turbo engine, making it an efficient option for those conscious of running costs. The official fuel consumption figures are impressive for an SUV of its size, with an average of around 44-47 mpg (WLTP). In terms of emissions, the Grandland X 1.2 Turbo produces approximately 128-134 g/km of CO₂, depending on the chosen transmission and specific model configuration, putting it in a relatively low tax bracket for a vehicle of its size.

Interior and Technology: As the "Elite Nav" trim, this model offers a premium interior with a host of modern technologies. The cabin is spacious and comfortable, providing seating for five people with ample legroom and headroom, even for taller passengers. The
