Let me start by saying this is my own personal vehicle in my name etc. It was bought 6 months ago due to an expanding family however believe it or not, it simply isn't big enough for my needs! I cherry picked this particular car due to its low owners, originality, impeccable service record but more so its low mileage, you rarely find them at sensible money with less than 100k miles! In the 6 months I've owned it, it has had a full engine & gearbox service, along with brake pads all round. Furthermore this is the more reliable and sought after V8 which doesn't break the crankshaft unlike its weak little brother, the V6, and the V8 is an absolute joy, with immediate throttle response and high end torque with a delightful noise throughout. Yes you pay for it in fuel economy and tax but nice things aren't cheap and if they're cheap, they aren't nice! The vehicle is also in a very damn impressive condition for its age and will not disappoint in my opinion.

I am selling this on a private sale basis being my own private car. No finance is available and I personally am not warranting the car however I will supply a warranty through a 3rd party company for peace of mind. Minimum 3 months, maximum 12 months depending on agreed price.
